

THE CALL

A BIMONTHLY PUBLICATION OF ROANOKE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

CO-OP SOLUTIONS

Special delivery: Co-op to install advanced digital meters

Next month, Roanoke Electric Co-op will begin removing all existing residential and commercial meters and replacing them with advanced digital meters. To learn more about the 18-month initiative to improve system efficiency and reliability, read more.

FOR MEMBERS ONLY

Local businesses offer special deals and discounts

A wide variety of local merchants are offering special discounts to Roanoke Electric Co-op member-owners who have signed up for the Co-op Connections Card program. From automotive repairs to salon treatments, there is a long list of participating businesses doling out deals on goods and services. For more information on these exclusive promotions for card holders, check this out.

JOB HUNTING?

Co-op announces new job opportunities

Looking for a rewarding new job opportunity in the energy industry? Roanoke Electric Co-op is currently seeking to hire an electrician, a coordinator of safety and loss control, and a purchasing agent. For more information on these openings and how to apply, check out our jobs board.

MEETING OF MINDS

Community gathering to focus on capacity building

Roanoke Chowan Partners for Progress 2 meeting is scheduled for March 8 at Roanoke Electric Co-op's headquarters. Centered around the theme of "capacity building," meeting participants will explore how best to develop and strengthen resources to better serve our community. To participate in the gathering and the lunch to follow, please RSVP by March 1. Read more.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

About that clock...

Did you know that Benjamin Banneker, primarily a self-educated mathematician and astronomer, was the inventor of America's first clock? He was born in 1731 the son of former slaves, and his life and legacy were marked by many remarkable achievements. Perhaps most notable: His invention of a wooden clock that kept accurate time and ran for more than 50 years until his death in 1806.

Roanoke Electric Cooperative

Your Touchstone Energy® Cooperative

Contact: Lori Everhart, communication manager | Roanoke Electric Cooperative | 252-209-2236 |
socialmedia@roanokeelectric.com | www.roanokeelectric.com