

THE CALL

A BIMONTHLY PUBLICATION OF ROANOKE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

BREAKING NEWS

Co-op's CEO elected to national leadership post

Curtis Wynn, president and CEO of Roanoke Electric Cooperative, has been elected the 39th president of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association's Board of Directors. This is the first time in the organization's 77-year history that an African American will serve in this top leadership post for the nation's electric co-ops.

Read all about it.

FOR MEMBERS ONLY

Co-op to pass along wholesale power cost savings

How would you like to see a credit added to your monthly electric bill? For the months of March and April, that's just what you may find -- thanks to Roanoke Electric Co-op's plan to distribute wholesale power costs savings to its member-owners. Read more.

MONEY MATTERS

There could be a check with your name on it

Did you make our list? Roanoke Electric Co-op is looking for former member-owners who have not claimed their capital credit checks. If your name can be found on this list, you are entitled to receive a refund. Check this out.

BALLER ALERT!

March 31: Deadline to apply for basketball camp

Applications are currently being accepted for two basketball camps scheduled to take place in June. All local 6th through 8th graders are eligible to apply, but must do so by March 31. This is a great opportunity to boost basketball skills, learn the value of teamwork and make new friends. Read more.

WAY TO GO!

Guess who's headed to Washington

Roanoke Electric Co-op has selected two local youth to participate in an all-expense paid trip to the nation's capital this June. They will join more than 1,500 students from across the United States participating in the Electric Cooperative Youth Tour. Who were this year's chosen ones? To find out, read more.

Contact: Lori Everhart, communication manager | Roanoke Electric Cooperative | 252-209-2236 | socialmedia@roanokeelectric.com | www.roanokeelectric.com