

THE CALL

A BIMONTHLY PUBLICATION OF ROANOKE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

UNDER ATTACK!

Cybercrime: How to avoid becoming the next victim

Cyberattacks are the fastest growing crime in the United States, and the financial toll on people and businesses is estimated at a whopping $600 billion worldwide. During a recent community meeting, Roanoke Electric Co-op turned the spotlight on this disturbing trend. To learn more about how you can protect your personal and business data, check out these valuable tips.

IT'S ACADEMIC

Summit: Empowering students through learning

Do you know any local youth looking for an opportunity to learn about careers in science, technology, engineering and math? Join us in spreading the word about the popular Youth STEAM Summit on July 25. Middle and high school students, as well as educators and parents are encouraged to participate in this free, day-long, action-packed event. Deadline to register: July 12, 2019. Read more.

ELECTION SEASON

Annual meeting: Board members up for re-election

At Roanoke Electric Co-op's annual meeting in August, three members of the co-op's board will be up for re-election. Member-owners will have the opportunity to participate in the election process. To learn more about the eligibility requirements and how the nomination process is carried out, read more.

FORESTRY FOCUS

Coming soon: Conference for forest landowners

Are you a local forest landowner seeking to reap the many benefits of sustainable forestry? Don't miss out on The North Carolina and Virginia Forest Landowners Conference, July 18-19, in Weldon. Sponsored by the co-op's Sustainable Forestry & Land Retention Project, this free conference offers participants valuable information on supportive forestry programs and best practices. Check it out.

OFFICE CLOSING

In observance of the Fourth of July

Roanoke Electric Co-op offices will be closed for the Fourth of July. As we look forward to celebrating our nation's birthday, your co-op extends best wishes to you all for a safe and festive holiday. Our normal business operations will resume Friday, July 5.
